

Laboratorio de Genómica Viral y Humana BSL-3 Facultad de Medicina UASLP

The IATA (International Air Transport Association) Triple Packaging System is a standardized method for the safe transport of infectious substances, including biological samples, in accordance with international air transport regulations.

This system ensures biosafety, containment, and compliance with IATA Dangerous Goods Regulations (DGR) for the transport of infectious substances and diagnostic specimens.